DETAILED ACTION

This application claims the benefit of the filing date of provisional applications 60/408,571 and 60/469,189.

Claims 1-44 are currently pending.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-21, 22, 24, 25, 27, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36-40 and 43, drawn to a method of treating asthma or airway inflammatory conditions comprising administering an anti-C5 antibody, classified in class 424, subclass 172.1.
 - II. Claims 22-24, 26, 27, 29-42 and 44, drawn to a method of treating asthma or airway inflammatory conditions comprising administering a compound that binds to a complement component, block complement activity or binds a complement receptor, wherein said compound is not an anti-C5 antibody, classified in class 424, subclass 184.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions are drawn to the use of agents that bind to different components of the complement cascade and have different modes of action.
3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter. Further, a prior art search requires a literature search. It is an undue burden for the Examiner to search more than one invention and restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
4. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

In Group II, Applicant is required to select a target molecule, such as a particular complement component and a compound used for the treatment method, such as the antiC5a receptor antibody recited in claim 26 or an agent recited in claim 31.

The species are independent or distinct because each of the complement components is structurally different and occupies a different place in the complement cascade, thus having a different impact upon down-stream events. Each of the treatment agents is structurally different and has different binding properties.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 22, 24, 27, 32, and 34 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
